About Me

I'm an undergrad student from Bangladesh, studying Mechatronics Engineering in Rajshahi University of Engineering & Technology (RUET). In addition to being a focused undergrad student of Mechatronics Engineering, I have a keen interest in Data Analysis, Machine Learning & Deep Learning.

I have experience in Data Analysis, Deep Learning, Machine Learning and development works such as software development, front-end development, 2D game development, discord bot development etc.

Apart from all these, I love playing Piano, watching Movies & Web Shows, reading books (and my taste of books/genres keeps changing), traveling (I've traveled more than 15 districts of my country and visited my neighboring country India), cooking, and spending time with my family and loved ones.
